“One More Day (For Faith)” (Sayles, Smithmier, Lacek)

i'll never get to hold you i'll never hear your sweet voice sing i'll never get to say 'i told you so' i'll never read to you, or get to teach you anything but you'll always be my hope you'll always be my first light you're always gonna be daddy's little girl you'll always be the strength i need to make it in this world i only wish for one more day i'm gonna miss your first day of school i'll never see you turn that page i'll never see you in your graduation gown and i'm never gonna see you coming of age

you're always gonna be mommy's little girl you'll always be the strength i need to make it in this world

sweet angel of mercy coming down to comfort me Faith, sit right here beside me i never want you to go away i'm always gonna wonder how you'd look always gonna wish i took your place up there you'll always be our hope you'll always be our first light you're always gonna be our little girl you'll always be the strength we need to make it in this world we only wish for one more day
